

YES TO SEX? YES MEANS TEST!

YES MEANS TEST™

Getting an STD, like chlamydia, is way more common than you'd think. In fact, 1 in 2 young people will get an STD by the time they're 25. So shouldn't STD testing be part of any checkup?

Anyone saying YES to sex should also say YES to TEST, and talk with a healthcare provider about which tests are right for them.

Half of all new STD cases in the U.S. are in people between ages 15-24...

but fewer than 12% of young people say they've been tested in the past year.

Let's change these stats.
